REPAIRING EYE CREAM with Phytoplacenta

Each of the components help to enhance the vital processes of the cells in a synergistic way, stimulating the activation of cellular metabolism and restoring energy for optimal fibroblast activity.

Its high content in vitamin F allows the cells of the epidermis to recover all their osmotic tension at the level of the superficial layers of the skin. It is essential for the formation of the lipid barrier of the epidermis. Fatty acids that compose it are the precursors of the molecules that increase the resistance of the skin against external aggressions.

As a result of stimulating cellular vitality, asphyxiated, fragile skins with a dull skin tone are revitalized and invigorated, and the regeneration of epidermal cells is accelerated to achieve a much fresher and more radiant skin.

In addition to acting on the eye contour thanks to its formula designed to be light and quickly absorbed, it is perfect for acting on the most delicate skin of the face: the eyelids.
