Wrinkle Removal Programme

Several factors cause facial aging. Whether hereditary, environmental, physiological changes or even by the very nature of the skin, all these multi-factors result in premature aging, chronoaging and photoaging that can take the form of various degrees of collagen loss which physically translates into wrinkles, uneven skin tone, sagging and dry skin with a dull complexion.

In addition, there are other physical forces at play such as facial expressions like frowning that cause a contraction of the facial muscles, eventually generating dynamic wrinkle formation as constant lifelong muscle contractions will result in loss of collagen and elastin of the underlying tissue.
